AZARIAH SMITH ROOT

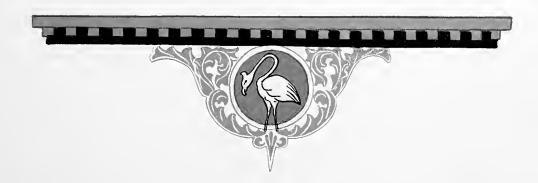

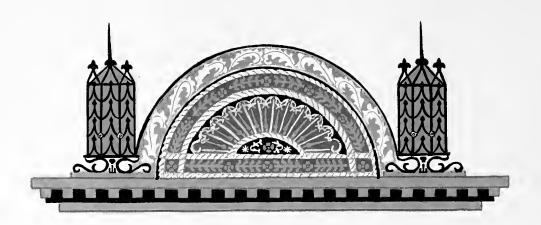

Dedication

HEN a man, escaping the proverbial fate of the prophets, attains in his field a national recognition, and at the same time is loved and honored by those about him, he is worthy of sincerest admiration. Such a man has now for many years lived in our midst. In spite of the constant demands upon his time, he has never been too busy to give kindly and courteous assistance to all who come to him; in spite of his many interests, Oberlin has always claimed his best efforts and attention. With a clear realization of his national reputation, and in a more grateful and intimate appreciation of all that he has done for Oberlin, we, the class of 1927, dedicate this volume to

Foreword

In the hope that our warmest, and most permanent memories of Oberlin College may center about her glorious inheritance of unselfish service, which comes down to her from John Frederick Oberlin, the obscure pastor of Waldbach, whose name she bears;

In the hope that the scenes among which our college years were spent, and the many friends who shared our joys, and encouraged us in our disappointments;

In the hope that these memories may blend into a unity, which will remain ever fresh, to be recalled, at will, to new vividness by turning the leaves of this book, and thus one more year in the history of our college be permanently recorded; we have arranged this volume of the HI-O-HI.

IN MEMORY OF DR. LUCIEN CALVIN WARNER

In the death of Dr. Lucien Warner on July 30 last, Oberlin College lost one of the most potent and wholesome personal factors of its history.

Dr. Warner received from Oberlin his A.B. in 1865, and an A.M. in 1870. Only eight years after his graduation, he was made a "Corresponding Member from the Alumni on the Board of Trustees." When the Board of Trustees of the College was reorganized, with regular provision for alumni trustees, Dr. Warner was elected among the first of that group, and continued an alumni trustee until his death. His entire and continuous connection with the Board was fifty-two years. Dr. Warner was a most valuable Trustee throughout the entire period of his membership in the Board, giving unstintedly of time, and thought, and means. His judgment was of rare soundness and his spirit magnanimous, and both qualities called out the trust and admiration of his fellow Trustees, and made him a natural and encouraging leader in the Board.

Dr. Warner gave repeatedly and generously to Oberlin's needs. The most notable of his material gifts were the building for the Conservatory of Music and the building for the Men's Gymnasium. Both buildings were greatly needed and came at a most opportune time.

The College conferred upon Dr. Warner in 1900 the degree of Doctor of Laws, in fitting recognition of the services he was rendering to various Christian and philanthropic organizations. We think most truly of Dr. Warner when we think of him, not as gone, but as still in the midst of a life and work, permeated with the spirit of Christ and of the endless years.

The Chapter normally elects from the senior class the one-eighth ranking highest in scholarship, but reserves the right to reject by a three-fourths vote any member of the class not having sufficiently high standing. Seniors who have not taken all their course in Oberlin are required to maintain a distinctly higher grade than those who have had all four years here.

THE FRESHMAN TENTH

The Freshman honor list includes the names of the ten percent of the class members who have received the highest scholastic averages for the first semester. Only those who have carried not less than fifteen hours of work are eligible to be placed on this list.

The highest average for the semester was secured by Miss Buck, and the second highest, by Miss Demms. Those whose names are starred in the alphabetical list ranked in the highest ten of the class.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

THE STUDENT COUNCIL

HE Student Council, consisting of nine members, seven of whom were elected by the student body by popular vote, is not only the central governing body, but is also responsible for the functions of the Associated Students. Under the revision, the Student Council is the Board of Directors, legally, for the Associated Students of Oberlin College. The Representative of Forensics, Publications, and Clubs who is an elected member to the Council, is directly responsible for the supervision of the duties of the former Board of Associated Students. The other members of the Council include the President, Vice President, Secretary and Treasurer. The Treasurer is also Chairman of the Student Chest and Chairman of the Finance Committee of the Council. This latter body controls the subsidiary organizations through a budget system of finance which was adopted in the Fall of 1925. The other two elected members of the Council are the Men's Representative and the Women's Representative. Their duties are concerned with the details of college and campus courtesy. The President of the Men's Senate and the President of the Women's League are ex-officio members of the Council, and by their connection unite the men's and women's governing bodies under this central form of administration.

THE WOMEN'S LEAGUE

The Women's League is the governing body of the women on the campus. It has its Senate, Executive Board, and its Co-operative Committee with the Faculty and Joint Council. Through these groups it carries on its various activities.

For several years now an effort has been made to broaden the scope of the League so as to include all of women's interests as well as self government. This year that effort has been rewarded by obtaining two rooms in the Women's Building, which will for the first time give the League permanent headquarters. It is hoped that this building may now be the center of women's activities on the campus.

That the students are extending their interests beyond local problems was clearly seen at the Wellesley Conference of Women Student Governments last fall, where national and international affairs of students were discussed with enthusiasm. It is toward this broader scope of knowledge and interest that the Women's League is working.

THE WOMEN'S SENATE

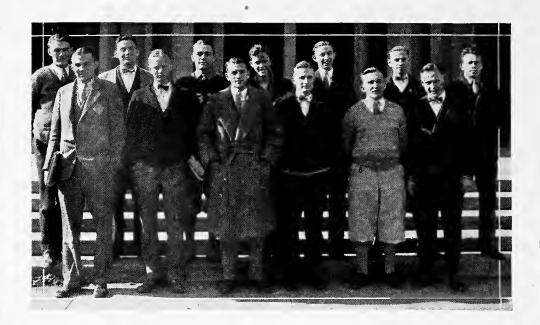

President—Virginia White Secretary—Sarah Bosworth

The Women's Senate is perhaps the most important part of the Women's League, carrying on, as it does, a great deal of the legislative and constructive work. It is composed of representatives of the various women's interests on the campus, of the classes, and also of the houses.

This year a new plan has been put into effect, whereby the membership is reduced to about thirty-six, while at the same time each campus interest remains adequately represented. This insures a group small enough to make real co-operation and freedom of discussion possible, and at the same time large enough to be thoroughly representative.

The Women's Senate makes recommendations for changes in rules, discusses problems of interest to women in general, and keeps the League in running order. All of its sessions are open to anyone who cares to come and hear the discussion, and any woman likewise may recommend a subject or change in legislation for consideration. It is in this capacity that the Senate may be considered as the central and most important body of the Women's League.

THE MEN'S SENATE

The Men's Senate, established in 1907, early had as its purpose the furtherance of co-operative understanding between students and faculty. It was the supreme legislative body of the school.

Through the twenty years of its evolution it became steadily more active. Under the latest reorganization of student government, however, it has assumed a position subsidiary to the new Student Council. The Senate now acts solely as the legislative body for men's activities and its president has a seat on the Student Council.

In the past year the body has controlled the Tie-Up and the general program of organized competition between the two lower classes; it has handled the sale and administration of Freshman Caps and headed up the Cap Burning Celebration. In addition, the Men's Senate was in charge of the Annual Football Banquet, and inaugurated the practice of donating a Hundred Dollar Scholarship to a deserving man.

The Senate consists of seventeen men—the presidents of the four college classes, two representatives from each class and one from the Conservatory, the Editor in Chief of the Review, the president of the Varsity "O" Club, president of the Y. M. C. A., and the cheerleader.

THE WOMEN'S BOARD OF THE CONSERVATORY

OFFICERS

President	Lois Blakely
Vice President	Gwenn Gilbert
Secretary-Treasurer	Grace Good
Social Chairman	Elizabeth Russell

The Women's Board of the Conservatory consists of the presidents of the four conservatory classes, the chairman of the Conservatory Counsellors, the social chairman and treasurer of the Women's League, and a representative of the Y. W. C. A. It co-operates with Dean Nash in furthering the social and business interests of the school.

The Women's Board of the Conservatory and the Men's Board planned and managed the annual Christmas Prom which came, this year, on the Saturday before the Christmas recess. The entertainment and decorations planned by the special committees were unusually successful.

The committees of the two boards also arranged the Annual Thanksgiving Party, at which the Faculty Troop of the Conservatory presented Mr. Yeaman's operetta, "An Honest Man," which was greatly enjoyed by the students and their guests.

CONSERVATORY MEN'S BOARD

OFFICERS

Haydn L. Mathews	President
Paul H. Humiston	Vice President
Don B. Corbin	Secretary-Treasurer
Paul H. Eichmeyer	Social Chairman

The Men's Board, originally a representative body to act as a medium between the faculty and students, now includes all the men of the Conservatory and endeavors to bring them into closer fellowship.

Since the Conservatory men are not grouped together in any large degree in class work, being few in number, separate class organizations are not expedient. The lack of common spirit among them tends toward seclusion. To convert this into fellowship, as far as possible, has been the aim of the board for several years.

Under the board's direction, social meetings of the men are held at various times throughout the year.

There are 51 men enrolled this year as compared with 63 of last year.

THE WOMEN'S HONOR COURT

The Women's Honor Court is composed of eight members, who are elected by the Women's Senate, and a chairman, elected by the members of the Women's League. It is the function of this court to try the cases of all women reported as violating the honor system which is maintained in all academic work. The court for the year 1925-1926 was composed of the following members:

Ruth M. Church, Chairman

Dorothy Lauder

Ruth Grosz

Mary Frances Pearl

Mary Hodgman

Ruthanna Davis

Harriet MacMahil

Audrey Hyde

Mary Louise Ainsworth

THE MEN'S HONOR COURT

The Men's Honor Court is a committee of six chosen annually by the Men's Senate. It acts on infringements of the Honor Code among men, and on violations of Oberlin men's traditions and customs. This body is authorized to make recommendations to the Discipline Committee as to the disposition of the cases under its jurisdiction. The members:

STUDENT VOLUNTEER BAND

As a part of the world wide movement for foreign missions, the Oberlin Student Volunteer group consists of those students who have chosen the mission field as their life work. As an organization, their aim is to acquaint students with the main facts about the mission field, to help them prepare for a life of service there, and to promote in the student body general an active interest in missions.

The regular Sunday evening meetings afford an opportunity to study campus problems as well as personal and group problems. The observations of returned missionaries and of foreign students are also presented to the group, to acquaint them with conditions in the foreign field. One of the chief studies of the year is the comparison of the living religions of the world with the fundamentals of Christianity.

CLASSICAL CLUB

OFFICERS

PresidentH	lda	Humes
Vice PresidentCharl	es I	Dunham
Secretary-TreasurerJoh	n S	Schaefer

With a large membership and varied program, the Classical Club passed another successful year. The aim of the club is to give its members an increased knowledge and deeper appreciation of the culture, customs and contributions of the people whose literature, history and art they are studying.

Meetings of the club are held every two weeks. The programs are arranged by the Teacher's Training class, and are given by both students and faculty. Several meetings have been devoted to Roman games, songs, mythology, and there have also been several informal social hours. Professor Wager addressed the club on Virgil and Professor Lord gave an illustrated lecture on Rome. At Christmas a part of the club under the direction of Mrs. Sturgis again presented the "Christmas Parvulus." The club presented the Ohio Classical Conference, at its meeting in Columbus this vear, with the Hildeshiem Bowl to stimulate interest in club work in the High Schools.

THE OBERLIN REVIEW

EDWIN HOWE Editor-in-Chief

The editor of The Oberlin Review, in giving to the college the first issue of the paper in April 1874, wrote:

"The Review springs from the wants and the hearts of the students, and by them it is supported."

During the fifty-two years that have elapsed since the founding of the paper, it has evolved from a bi-weekly journal which aimed to "publish the best that had been thought and said by alumni, faculty, and undergraduates and give full attention to local items," to become a semi-weekly newspaper seeking to bind together the varied elements that make up a college.

Through its news column the Review seeks to present an accurate picture of the college as it appears from day to day during the academic year; through its editorial columns it attempts to offer a picture of the college as it may some day be.

Believing that it should be the duty of a college paper to "invite a student to participate in his own education," the Review has placed, during the last few years, increasing emphasis on the editorial department of the paper. It has offered to the students editorials designed to provoke thought; and in questions of fundamental importance to the students, it has taken the lead in an effort to stimulate discussion that may eventually lead to action.

The Review, which comes under the jurisdiction of the Student Council, is managed by a board elected by the Council. Responsible to this board are a number of assistants assigned the task of carrying on the work divided among the several departments of the paper.

Dear Mr. McFadden:

In considering the gains for the present fiscal year (both spiritual and financial) may I be permitted to remark upon the success of your latest and most sensational paper—The Outlaw. As the business manager in the enterprise, I am in a position to judge as to the general heightened morals of the country due to its vast and comprehensive circulation. There is no doubt that the essay into the green fields of college publishing was a happy one. Never have you been able to turn out a paper so gross, so ill-considered, and yet so true to type. You have succeeded in capturing, in the pages of that paper, that elusive something which is an outstanding characteristic of all McFadden publications. The fact that advertisers did not dare to patronize the initial issue is indicative of the fact that there never was a yellow sheet so yellow. The college students are ripe for easy plucking and you have realized it. Your stockholder's confidence in you will be restored. The lack of judgment that you displayed in publishing a story that was really true in one of your confession magazines nearly caused your stock to be taken off the exchange. With the publication of The Outlaw, confidence in you has been restored. Congratulations! Once more you are a success, Mr. McFadden.

I wish you great mental and spiritual (not to mention financial) satisfaction in your new opus. Surely some one needs to educate the college students. Where their professors have failed, perhaps you may succeed.

Sincerely,

P. D. Sherman.

The Oberlin Musical Union, in the 65th year of its existence, has in no wise departed from its traditional standard of performance. Assisted by the Cleveland Symphony Orchestra, the Union gave as its 1925 Spring Concert Wolf-Ferrari's beautiful setting of Dante's "Vita Nuova," and the "Grail Scene" from "Parsifal." This concert very fittingly marked the close of Dr. Andrews' twenty-fifth year as director.

Handel's "Messiah" was given as the Christmas concert, and was repeated in Cleveland January 10, 1926, under the auspices of the Federated Churches of Cleveland. Both concerts were exceedingly successful and won great praise for Dr. Andrews as director. The Union was assisted by the Conservatory Orchestra.

The Alumni Association is composed of all graduates and former students of the college in all its departments. It publishes monthly the Oberlin Alumni Magazine, which is the official organ of its members, keeping them in touch with one another, with the college administration, and with the affairs of the campus.

It encourages local chapters in the larger cities, it sponsors fall and mid-winter home-comings, it assists in the raising of scholarship and endowment funds, it maintains a file of all graduates, it helps arrange commencement class reunions, and is a general clearing-house for all alumni matters.

THE STUDENT CHEST

The Student Chest was organized eight years ago, for the purpose of centralizing all charitable appeals on the campus.

It takes care of a portion of the expenses for Oberlin in Shansi, the Y. W. C. A., the Y. M. C. A., and a contribution to the Student Friendship Fund.

This year there have been approximately 1,400 pledges totalling nearly $10,600. This total is far short of meeting the budget, and the dependent organizations will be handicapped in realizing their aims.

The Student Chest plan is not a means to do away with charitable appeals, but rather to gather them together for a single presentation. This is believed to be better because:

- 1. It meets the actual needs of charitable organizations.
- 2. It protects the student body from many petty appeals.
- 3. It aids the student in giving to charity what is reasonable, and protects him from over-pledging in response to emotionable appeals.

THE ALLEN MEMORIAL HOSPITAL

DR. R. W. BRADSHAW

In 1915 Dr. Dudley Peter Allen made the initial gift to the college for a hospital. Other contributions were made from time to time, and at length through the splendid gift of Mrs. Elizabeth Severance Prentiss, the college was able to begin the work. The building was erected in memory of Dr. Dudley Allen and Dr. Dudley Peter Allen. The entire equipment and furnishings were given in memory of Myrtle Grace Vial, of the class of 1908, by her family.

The Hospital was opened on October 14, and is meeting most efficiently a long-felt need of the college and community. Browning House continues to act in connection with the hospital as a woman's infirmary, and contagious diseases are treated in two other houses.

MRS. ELLEN B. HATCH

It is an unfortunate characteristic of youth, that in the midst of our pleasure we often forget to whom thanks are due; although we enjoy the benefits of "Rec" hall, we fail to remember that only by the efforts of Mrs. Hatch is such an institution possible. "Rec" hall is not particularly attractive in itself, but Mrs. Hatch has succeeded in making it one of the most enjoyable centers of Oberlin social life. It has required perseverance and an unusual combination of personal qualities to accomplish this; we are very grateful to her, and we heartily appreciate the results.

SEASON'S SUMMARY

MacEachron Coach

Oberlin faced the 1925 Football season with the expectation of being represented by a mediocre team; for not often is it possible for a school to lose its coach, and nine varsity men, and then present a formidable eleven the following season. But we Oberlinites are coming to learn that nothing is impossible. Coach Hughes came to us last year a non-entity, took the odds and ends of a .571 team of the previous year, and built up another Oberlin championship team and one of the strongest Ohio Conference elevens of all time.

Our spirits suffered a serious setback last spring when we learned that Coach Hughes had accepted a call to DePauw University. Certainly Oberlin was justified in feeling that "there goes your old ball game." But our ever-alert Athletic Department made a real find in Coach

Paul MacEachron, who led the Oberlin Football team through its second successive undefeated season. We affirm the statement of The Cleveland Plain Dealer in saying, "Coach MacEachron deserved a lot of credit for the way in which he constructed a near-champion from the odds and ends of the great eleven of 1924."

Coach MacEachron has indeed been fortunate this year in being aided by three graduate players. Fox, an end on Reserve's team of last year, "Fat" McPhee and "Speedy" Speegle of our own 1924 championship team helped "Mac" whip his men into shape. By taking the work of fundamentals upon their shoulders, these assistants made it possible for MacEachron to give his time to the betterment of the varsity team.

But coaches can't win the game for us. Football circles everywhere recognize the consistent prowess of Oberlin's Football teams. The Plain Dealer sports writer struck the keynote of this season's success when he remarked that, "it seems that Oberlin can lose its star players, change coaches, and do everything else that is popularly supposed to ruin a Football team and yet keep right on winning. Being a championship team that was supposed to have surrendered its title on last Commencement Day, Oberlin has performed much as Notre Dame. Oberlin did not graduate its winning habit."

ALBION 7-0

At half time in the Albion game neither team had scored. The ball hovered about the 50 yd. line throughout the period with few threats from either side. As the second period opened, however, something happened and happened quickly. Crafts went in for Thomas at quarter, and three or four plays brought the ball to within 12 yds. of Albion's goal. Fleming substituted for Crafts and on the next play, Poe hurled a pretty pass to Jones across the Albion goal-line.

BALDWIN-WALLACE 9-6

Intercepting a pass from Wickenden, Baldwin-Wallace ran 70 yds. for a touch-down, the first score of the game. Urged on by the fighting spirit of Capt. Wagner, Oberlin scored a touchdown early in the second quarter. With the score 6-6 Fleming caught a fair catch on the Baldwin-Wallace 18 yd. line and Thomas booted a perfect free-kick through the Baldwin-Wallace goal posts. Thus Oberlin disposed of the first obstacle in the Ohio Conference Championship race.

WOOSTER 13-0

The result of this game was one of the greatest upsets of the season, as Wooster was doped to win by several touchdowns. Going on the field as underdogs, Oberlin caught its rivals asleep and proceeded to score in the first quarter, via a pass from Poe to Hastings. In the second quarter, Wooster, with the wind in her favor, secured a footing on Oberlin's 22 yd. line. It appeared that the score would be tied as the Oberlin line was being pierced consistently, but Wagner intercepted a Wooster pass, and the half ended 7-0.

Åt the beginning of the second half, Wooster massed its forces, and on two occasions took the ball to Oberlin's 33 yd. line, only to lose it on fumbles. Oberlin's second score came in the last quarter after Hansbury had intercepted a pass on Wooster's 23 yd. line. Wickenden, Poe, and Hansbury smashed through the line and skirted the ends until the ball was advanced to Wooster's 1 yd. line. From here Poe carried it across on a line plunge, and Wooster's Home-coming became a grand success from a Crimson and Gold point of view.

CASE 7-0

On a field that necessitated prompt action, "Art" Poe see-sawed through the Case line in the first two minutes of the annual Oberlin-Case clash. Burr added the extra point. With the score 7-0, on a gridiron that hardly permitted an effective offense, Oberlin players contented themselves with keeping Case subdued. Although outpunted and outpassed, Oberlin scored six first-downs to three for Case.

MT. UNION 0-0

When Oberlin took the field against Mt. Union, three regulars were on the bench because of injuries. In the first half the Crimson and Gold clearly outplayed their rivals, and nearly scored in the first few minutes. After this the punch which was exhibited at Wooster was entirely lacking. Oberlin was lucky not to have been scored upon in the final quarter. The game ended in a scoreless tie, which was enough to deprive us of half-claim to the Ohio Conference Championship.

ROCHESTER 24-0

Starting her Second team against Rochester, Oberlin ran up the largest score of the season. The first touchdown of the game came on a 20 yd. pass to Hastings, who had gone in to replace Jones. Although at the beginning of the second half Rochester played its best football, it was during this period that Poe scored the second touchdown. After Hosfield had skirted the ends for six points the second string men again took the field, and immediately Tenney proceeded to pick up a fumble and romp 25 yds. for the final score of the game.

RESERVE 14-6

Recovering an Oberlin fumble and racing 45 yds. for a touchdown in the first three minutes of play, Reserve furnished the first thrill of a game played on a water-soaked gridiron. Due to the muddy field and slippery ball, the game was marred with numerous fumbles, and Oberlin's first score came as a result of this. Hastings recovered a fumbled punt on the Reserve one-yard line, and Hansbury shot through left guard for Oberlin's first six points. In the final quarter Hastings took the ball from the finger-tips of the Reserve passer and raced 55 yards for the final touchdown. The mud and rain was undoubtedly a great handicap to both teams, and necessitated the use of straight football throughout.

MIAMI 18-7

Displaying its greatest offensive work of the year, the Oberlin grid machine ran over Miami in the last game of the season, winning 18 to 7. Time and again Poe, Hosfield, and Burr slipped through the great rents torn in the Red and White forward wall, while Hansbury reeled off yard after yard with his open field work around the ends. Except at the very start of the struggle the Oberlin line outcharged Miami consistently, but the fighting spirit of the southerners left the victory in doubt until the final quarter was all but over. In the first quarter, with Oberlin fighting with her back to the wall to prevent a score, Hansbury intercepted a pass from Miami and streaked down the side of the field, 75 yards for Oberlin's first counter. Again, in the second period when Oberlin's offense began to get under way, it was Hansbury who circled the end for a gain of 25 yards. From the one yard line Poe carried the ball over for the second touchdown. Miami's score came in the second period. A long pass put the ball on the two yard line, and four plays netted a touchdown. Oberlin's third marker came in the fourth quarter, when Hansbury received a punt and raced to the three yard line. From here Hosfield plunged through for the final score. In a few seconds the game was over, and the remarkable and successful football season of 1925 with it.

THE STADIUM

During the football season of 1924, the need of additional seats for spectators at the Oberlin athletic field became urgent. Soon after the close of that season a preliminary sketch was prepared for a stadium that would meet the present and prospective needs of Oberlin College. It was felt that if funds could be secured to build 2,500 seats of the proposed equipment, the college would be justified in going forward with the plan. Late in January, 1925 a circular was sent to many of the alumni and former students of Oberlin College containing sketches of the proposed plan and inviting subscriptions at $12.50 per seat.

Two of the conditions of these pledges were as follows: (1) that they should not be enforceable until subscriptions for a total of 1,600 seats were received by April 1st; and (2) that sufficient funds should be provided from other sources to satisfy the college that it could proceed with the erection of at least 2,500 seats of the stadium.

When the pledges amounted to $21,762 and with an anticipated income of $10,000 from the 1925 season, a contract was let for the construction of 3,035 seats, to cost $31,762. Upon this basis, the construction of the stand began immediately after commencement in June, and the greater part of the stand was ready for use for the opening game, Sept. 26th.

It was with a feeling of pride and exhilaration that we greeted our new stadium last fall. No longer must we fear the collapse of the old wooden bleachers, no longer must we suffer because of lack of seating capacity,—we are proud to show "Our" stadium to our guests and friends. The stadium is a fitting memorial to Oberlin's athletic prowess.

BASKETBALL SEASON 1925-1926

COACH MacEACHRON

Although Oberlin's basketball team did not equal the record of the famous 1924-1925 squad, it has the satisfaction of knowing that every game was hard fought, and that no defeat came until the opposing team had been given a run for their money.

Coach MacEachron faced the difficult proposition of building a team around one veteran, Captain Leahy. After much experimenting which took the major part of the season, a snappy and fast, but very light team was developed. Handicapped by the lack of a tall center, and by the fact that our opponents were usually very much heavier, Oberlin struggled through the season with three victories and eleven defeats. Seven games were played before the Oberlin boys scored a victory. On the eastern trip Hamilton was beaten, and this seemed to give the Oberlin team confidence. The next week the highly vaunted Miami squad was taken into camp. Two weeks later Wooster came here in hopes of avenging the football defeat handed them by the Oberlin lads last fall. Again they were disappointed. After a hard battle which lasted through two over-time periods, Captain Leahy shot the wining points from underneath the basket. The following week Oberlin lost to Dennison by the overwhelming score of 51-30. The season closed by losing to Mount Union, Ohio Conference champs, in a slow but interesting game on the home floor.

Although the season cannot be called a successful one from the standpoint of games won, the team, substitutes, and Coach MacEachron are to be congratulated for the way in which the games were fought. With a determination and spirit of never-say-die, the team played against odds and fought from the start until the final whistle. The prospects for the next season are very bright. With Ballard as captain and with every 1925-1926 player back Oberlin should put out a team equal to any in the Ohio Conference. What they lack in size should be made up by willingness, ability, and experience.

CHICACO TO THE TOTAL OF THE SECOND

BALLARD

A steady player, sensational dribbler, and a wonderful defense man. This is Oberlin's captain for the 1926-1927 season.

TESSENVITZ

A hard fighter, fast player ,and good shot. "Tess" will be valuable at the pivot position again next year.

FLEMING

A quick thinker, clever passer, and excellent floor man. Johnny proved to be a good running mate for Ballard.

McPHEE

A calm, steady player. He has a keen eye for the basket, and although handicapped by size, makes up for it by clever foot-work.

HELDMAN

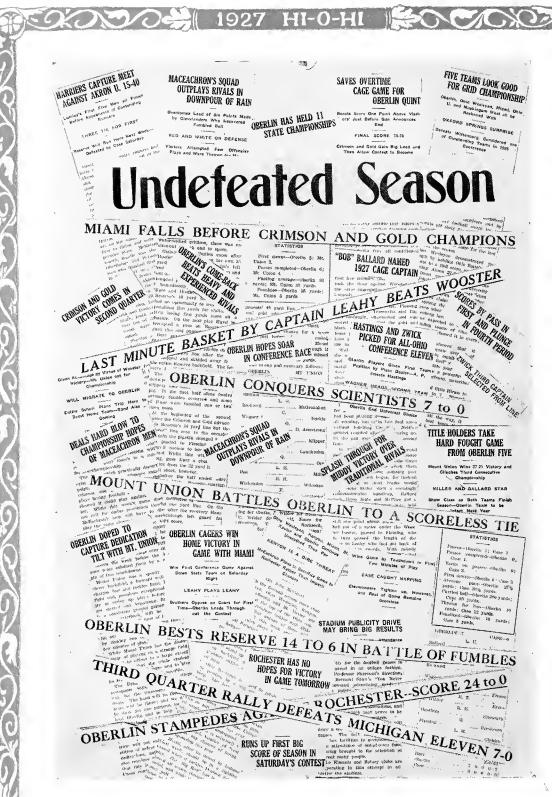

Playing both forward and guard positions, John made himself a valuable

RAIKULA

Bill has the size and is quite an accurate shot. With a little more experience, he should develop into a clever player.

1925 BASEBALL SEASON

COACH THRONER

Erratic work in the field and weakness at bat robbed Oberlin of several victories during the 1925 season. With five letter men from the preceding year as a nucleus, Coach Throner endeavored to build up a winning combination.

Oberlin usually played her best baseball against her hardest opponents, who seemed a bit better. Weber and Adams pitched good ball throughout the season, but lack of general support meant the downfall of their efforts. With six varsity men and several prospects from the Freshmen squad, the Crimson and Gold should do well on the diamond this spring. Baseball enthusiasm is growing; Coach Throner is an artist at the game, and through his efforts a winning combination should be developed.

1925 TRACK SEASON

COACH McPHEE

The Oberlin track season cannot be termed a success from the standpoint of games won. Four intercollegiate meets were held beside the Big Six, only one of which was won by the Crimson and Gold tracksters. Meets were lost to Case, Miami, and Dennison, all by rather large scores. These losses were due to the fact that Oberlin, although strong in the track events, was exceptionally weak in the field events. The tables were turned on Reserve and Mt. Union in a triangular meet, and Oberlin won with comparative ease. At the Big Six, largely due to spectacular performances of Captain Williams in the half mile, and Hunsche in the mile, Oberlin placed fifth. In this meet Bob won first place in the half, running the distance in 1 min. 56 sec., and thereby setting a new Oberlin and Big Six record in this event. Hunsche tied with Hill of Wesleyan for first place in the mile, also setting a new record.

Coach McPhee, a stellar track performer in his day, can be given credit for the marked improvement of every man throughout the year. "Micky" produced wonders with the men available, and had he had more material to work with, the results would undoubtedly been different. Plenty of material will be on hand for the 1926 season, and all indications point to a great time on the Oberlin track.

1926 INDOOR TRACK

Wooster at Wooster March 20.

In her only indoor meet this season, Oberlin upset the dope by defeating Wooster 62-42. Of the fourteen events, Oberlin captured eight firsts, and tied in another. The 220, 440, 3/4 mile, and 2 mile races were all run off in better time than Oberlin's track record. Oberlin showed especial strength in the pole-vault and distance runs.

The Ohio Relays

The Ohio Relays are to be held at Columbus, April 17, and Oberlin expects to send three teams.

She will enter:

A two mile team—1/2 mile per man. (Oberlin formerly held the record for this event.)

Distance Medley-440, 880, 3/4, and mile.

Five man mile team race—1 mile per man.

The "Big-Six" Meet

Oberlin will be host to the Ohio Conference Colleges at the annual "Big-Six" track meet May 28-29. This is the first time in history that Oberlin has been honored with this privilege.

Track Schedule for 1926

CROSS-COUNTRY 1925

Three victories and one defeat topped off by winning the "Big-Six" is no mean record for one cross-country season. Oberlin may well be proud of her 1925 championship team.

Having lost four men by graduation, she dropped her first meet to Wooster at Wooster, 26-29. Although the score was close, the race was closer; and had the course been familiar to our men, Parsons would likely have taken first place, and the meet might have been ours.

Determined to avenge this defeat, the Oberlin "harriers" twice finished their whole team before any of their opponents crossed the line—this at the expense of Akron and Reserve.

Oberlin's prospects at the "Big-Six" were anything but encouraging. Believing that a team may be "down but never out," the cross-country team went "down" to the classic run of the season and came "out" victorious, thus making it our second championship team in the last three years. Parsons finished a scant 100 yds. behind Emory of Miami, and came in 200 yds. ahead of Carouthers of Wooster, who had beaten him earlier in the fall. The other men finished about as expected, and it was left to Amstutz to furnish the thrill of the day by beating out Ingalls and McKelvy. Only the first five men in counted in the scoring, yet it is significant that Oberlin's six men were in before any of the other schools had finished five.

Strong cross-country teams have become a tradition at Oberlin as is evidenced by her record for the last ten years: '16-2, '17-2, '18-3, '19-2, '20-4, '21-2, '22-3, '23-1, '24-2, '25-1.

VARSITY TENNIS 1925

Eugene Bischoff again acted as tennis mentor, and under his tutelage the tennis squad rapidly developed into a winning combination. After losing the first two matches, one to Wooster, and the other to Bowling Green, the Oberlin team proceeded to take over Heidelberg, Bowling Green in a return match, Washington and Jefferson, and Michigan State College; and closed the season with a draw, with the previously successful Wooster players. McPhee, Crafts, Butler, Tessenvitz, and Vincent proved to be the mainstays of the team, and with three out of these five back, a successful season can safely be predicted for the spring sport.

This college has long been in favor of athletics for the many as against athletics for the few. This year Oberlin has had a system of intra-mural athletics which endeavors to furnish some kind of athletic training for every man in college.

Last fall the physical education department adapted the new system, which gives the four classes a chance to compete in ten sports during the year. The sports are arranged on a 100 point basis, and the winning class of the season receives a perpetual trophy cup engraved with their numerals.

A four sport athletic program was also adapted for the boarding and rooming houses. This, too, is on a 100 point basis, and another perpetual trophy cup is awarded the house league winners.

The placing of the classes in each major sport counts 12 for first place, 9 for second, 6 for third, and 3 for fourth. Minor sports count 8-6-4-2.

HOUSE LEAGUE

Major SportsMinor SportsBasketballIndoor trackOutdoor trackSpring tennis

Major sports count 30-28-26, etc., and minor sports 20-18-16, etc., toward the house league cup.

As this book goes to print, the classes have competed in seven sports. The Seniors and Sophomores tied for first place with 52 points each.

The House League has completed two of the four sports, Cranford leading. Several other houses are pushing them for this place.

So far this year, about eight hundred men have competed in some form of intramural athletics. This number practically represents the number of men in college. There are three more sports in the class league and two in the house league to be played off. Much of the credit for this enthusiasm is due C. V. Savage, Dr. Morrison, A. E. Lumley, Coaches Mac Eachron and Throner, and Messrs. Berthoff, Jones, Larsen, Close and students of the college for their assistance in officiating at the games.

The Inter-Class Meet

By winning the inter-class indoor track meet the Sophomores won the class championship. The Sophomore relay team set a new record in the two mile relay, running it off in 9 min. 54.1 sec.

Kydd, who is probably the best of the freshmen tracksters, was the hero of the meet. In running the 220 in 27 seconds flat, he accomplished that which has been accomplished but twice before in Oberlin's indoor track history.

The results of the meet were as follows:

25 yard dash—Kydd ('29) won; Engle ('28) 2; Houck ('28) and Holden ('26) tied for third. Time, 3.4 sec.

25 yard low hurdles—Lee ('29) won; Lies ('27) 2; Houck ('28) 3; Lewis ('28) 4. Time, 3.8 sec.

25 yard high hurdles—Lies ('27) won; Delfs ('27) 2; Lee ('28) 3; Leonard ('29) 4. Time, 4 sec.

220 yard dash—Kydd ('29) won; Engle ('28) 2; Houck ('28) 3; Holden ('26) 4. Time, 27 sec.

440 yard dash—Bookamer ('28) won; Knowlton ('27) 2; Hogue ('28) 3. Time, 59.6 sec.

INTRA-MURAL CROSS-COUNTRY SQUAD

This picture represents about fifty of the ninety or more men who were out for this fall sport. It was from this group that Coach Lumley found valuable material for his varsity squad.

FALL TENNIS

This sport called forth unusual spirit last fall. The matches were closely contested throughout, and the man who successfully defeated such a field of players well deserves the title of school champion. Reischauer, '28, beat out Hammer, '29, and Vincent, '26, defeated Tessenvitz, '27, the two winners thus earning for themselves a place in the finals. As was expected, Reischauer won the match, but not without stiff opposition from Vincent. The scores are as follows: 4-6, 7-5, 7-5, 4-6, 6-4.

INTER-HOUSE BASKETBALL

This year's house basketball teams were well matched and furnished plenty of keen competition. There were twenty-four houses represented in the league, and of these, three finished the season undefeated. In order to determine the champion a post-season series was held. The '23 House boys defeated the Manor, and the Cranford crew took over '23 House, thus gaining for themselves the title of the "House League Champions."

Besides those men in the undefeated teams, there were some who stood out in the other teams. Among these were Debnam, Montague, Probert, Rockwell and Hanna.

MISS EDWARDS

MISS DAVIESS

During the past years the Women's Physical Education Department of Oberlin College has acquired high recognition throughout the country. It has come to be widely known for the capability of the gymnasium faculty, and through the work of its trained graduates.

The present administration has built up the efficiency of the department in keeping with its good name, and no small amount of the credit is due to the work of Dr. Moulton. Skill and a fine knowledge of her profession has enabled her to efficiently supervise the general health of the girls during two years of their college work, and to most successfully conduct her classes. Those who have needed her advice or help will remember her careful consideration and serious desire to be of service.

It is impossible to speak of regular gym work without hearing expressions of admiration for the inspiring teaching and sincere friendliness of Miss Eldred. Perhaps no other person has taken such pride in the love and respect of all the girls who come in contact with her. One of Miss Eldred's greatest services has been the maintaining of the department's general morale at its present high level.

The girls who have been acquainted with Miss Edwards both inside and outside the class-room know what a sense of humor and love of fun she possesses. This very characteristic has been a saving factor in more than one precarious situation. Her teaching ability and her work in dancing receives more appreciation each year. The portraits of dancing which appear elsewhere in this section show the splendid results of Miss Edwards' work.

As Miss Daviess reaches the end of her stay in Oberlin, it becomes more and more apparent how greatly she will be missed. As director of sports she has shown herself to be an able teacher and coach, a friend of fair judgment, and above all to have a lovely personality. We can wish her nothing better than that in her future work she may find the same success and admiration that has been awarded her here.

Officers

As a member of the national association of college athletic leagues, the W. A. A. supplies one of the desirable sides of the Oberlin girl's life. Track, hiking, tennis, quoits, archery, and golf are featured by the association, in addition to the major sports. Any girl who qualifies in these becomes an active member.

The two "girl stag" functions of the year are backed by the W. A. A.: the dance in the fall, and the Yale-Princeton game in the late winter. These two affairs are unique in that they exclude men, a factor which acts as nothing else can in uniting and unifying the girls.

BASEBALL

In spite of rain, and the difficulty of finding time for games in the last few weeks of school, the Baseball season last year was unusually successful. Coach Daviess had no difficulty in calling out sufficient material for the class teams. During the practices, every girl had her chance to learn the game, and get the most to be had of enjoyment and practical advantages. Enthusiasm waxed high as the season progressed, and Galpin Field was the scene of an unusual number of closely contested matches.

The spirit and skill shown in the individual team practices and games counted strongly toward the success of the annual Army-Navy match. Spectators saw the best baseball of the girl's season when the Navy defeated the Army, 27-23.

The Seniors, with a team of nine expert players, and an exceptionally good infield, were accounted inter-class champions, with the class of '28 second. Forecasts for the season favor the latter class.

MURIEL McCLELLAND
Women's Tennis Champion

TENNIS

Oberlin offers splendid opportunities for girls to play tennis, either as a pastime, or as a sport in which to win honors for the class. It is an exceedingly popular game, and early in the fall there are many entries for the tournaments.

The results of last spring's games were watched with more than usual interest, due to the closeness of the matches, and the skill of the players. Winners of the class tournaments were as follows: '25, Lydia Kayser; '26, Beth Scudder; '27, Mary Hodgman; '28, Muriel McClelland; Con., Ruby Harris. In a series of brilliant matches, "Mac" McClelland proved her worth as a tennis player by defeating the class winners in turn, thus qualifying to meet the college champion, Madeline Field. The Senior veteran had to bow before Mac's steady drive and carefully placed shots, enabling the Freshman to claim the college championship.

A doubles tournament also figured in the season's activities, with Madeline Field and Margaret Guss as the winners. This is the first time a doubles tournament has been offered, and it is hoped that this feature will gain in popularity.

HOCKEY

In order to awaken the interest of more girls in hockey, this season a new system of color tournament was used. Elimination games between the class teams were played, thus placing the various women in either the winner or loser tournament. These two tournaments were played off and the Senior Reds and Sophomore Blues emerged as victors of the winner and loser respectively.

Following the color series, class games eliminated all but the Juniors, who after a hard battle carried of the championship.

As a climax to the season, the annual Annapolis-West Point all-star game was played, the Annapolis team proving victorious by a 2-1 score.

The entire season was marked by bad weather, but in spite of all drawbacks, the girls, under the coaching of Miss Edwards, feel that a profitable hockey season was spent.

BASKETBALL

As usual, basketball remains the favorite sport of the followers of girls' athletics. Although fewer people came out for basketball this year, there were plenty of players for a series of second team games among the Juniors, Sophomores and Freshmen.

Due to changes in the rules this season which put six girls, three forwards and three guards, on a court floor; and due to some minor alterations in violations and penalties, there was fear that the game might be slowed up. With each succeeding practice, however, under Miss Daviess' excellent coaching, each team worked up its passing; the Seniors perfected their team work the most aptly of all.

This smoothly working machine swept through to the championship, and met only one defeat. In the last game the Juniors came back with a brilliant passing and guarding attack, too late to win the cup which they held for two years but which the Sophomores had stolen by a flashy spurt early in the season.

THE YALE PRINCETON GAME

In the best game of the year, and in the most thrilling Yale-Princeton of many years, the climax of the girls' basket-ball season was reached on the evening of March 25. The entire co-ed population of Oberlin crowded Warner gym to its capacity and furnished inspiration for the teams by wild cheering.

Princeton, remembering last year's defeat, was determined to be avenged, and started scoring in the first moments. Yale, however, quickly gained a lead which it held until the end of the half, when Princeton's forwards sent the score to 16:14 in their favor.

The second half saw such brilliant guarding that neither team was able to reach the basket until the last minute of play, when Pat Clark eluded Mary Hodgman and tied the score. In the overtime period, a penalty gave Princeton her chance, and Marie Kurtz added the point which defeated Yale 17-16.

The game was characterized by the sure passing and exceptional guarding that mark Miss Daviess' coaching. Once again the teams demonstrated her ability in this major sport, and brought words of gratification from every spectator.

Before the game, Pete Wood, president of the W. A. A., presented the tennis championship cup to Muriel McClelland, '28, and the class basketball cup to the Senior team. The girls who earned their O. C. sweaters were announced, and the coveted armbands were awarded to three who had the required 1400 points.

Between the halves, the alumnae played a spirited game in which the blues defeated the orange team by a score of 7-4.

The cheerleading was one of the greatest factors in the evening's success, and brought enthusiastic response from the bleachers. Not only did the leaders provide a stimulus for the players, but their efforts struck the key-note of the unusually fine spirit that prevailed during the contest and in the days that preceded it.

The various houses showed great originality in their distinctions, and the girls who decorated the gym, sold ice-cream and candy, or performed in the stunts helped make the event an exceptional success.

The line-up and summary of the game follows:

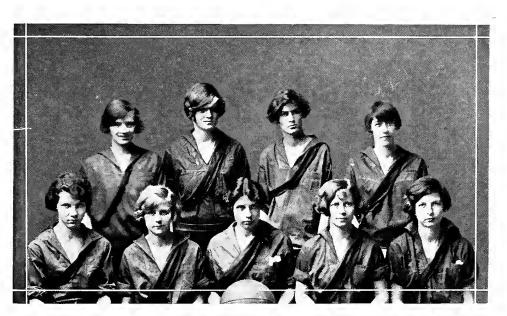

Yale—16	G. F. T.	Princeton—17	G. F. T.

SOCCER

With each succeeding year, soccer has taken a more important place in the list of fall sports. This growth in popularity is due to the fact that soccer is a fast game involving a comparatively large number of players. Because of the excellent coaching, and the enthusiastic support of the girls, an unusual amount of skill and dexterity was displayed in the final games between the Red, Blue and White teams.

The first game, played during a storm of snow and sleet, was one of great excitement and tension. The victory of the Blues, prophetic of the season's results, was obtained only after both teams had shared honors for four quarters, and slid through an overtime period on the icy ground. The Blues further proved their superiority by winning the final game 3-0.

Page two hundred forty-two

SWIMMING

Swimming has become one of the most popular of minor sports and about forty girls go to the Elyria Y. M. C. A. pool to swim once a week.

The class is divided into two sections, one for beginners, and the other for those who wish to take the life saving test given by the American Red Cross. The beginners are taught elementary strokes and simple dives while the more advanced are instructed in complicated diving and swimming.

These girls devote the greater part of their time to the life saving requirements. Miss Daviess is in charge of the sport and is assisted by those swimmers who have passed the test.

LIFE SAVING CORPS

Page two hundred forty-three

VOLLEY BALL

Volley ball, accompanying basket ball during the months when sports are confined to the gymnasium, proved sufficiently popular this year to call out enough girls for three teams of ten girls each. In spite of the fact that victories were decisive and scores high, the games were exciting, and the closeness of the contests roused enthusiasm among the girls as well as gratified Miss Daviess.

The Whites defeated the Reds three games in succession, and then repeated this program in winning from the Blues. The latter team had claimed one match, but was unable to stop the Whites on their way to the championship.

Volley ball is fast becoming a favorite winter sport among the girls, and the final game between the Whites, captained by Shinsel Kim, and the Blues, led by Virginia Van Fossen, gave promise of a series of skillful and spirited matches next year.

THE MEN'S COMMONS

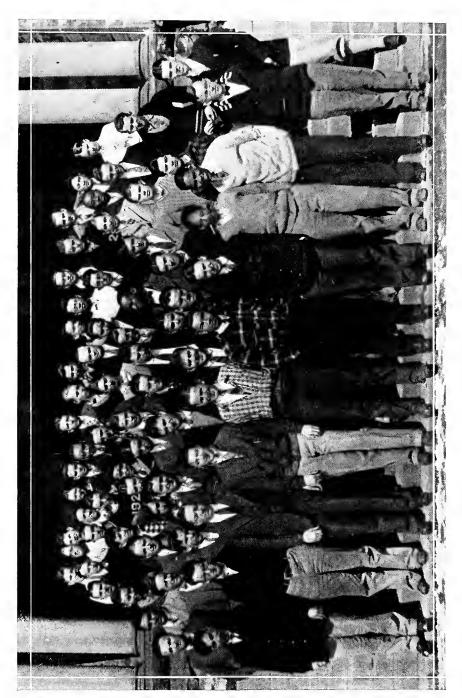

The Commons has passed the experimental stage and has become an established institution on the campus. It serves an excellent purpose in throwing the men of the Freshman class together, permitting them to mix as a group of men; this gives them early in their college life an esprit de corps which is valuable to them as a class and as individuals during the remainder of their college life.

Life at the Commons is not devoid of the variety that lends charm. The Krookshanks Kommons Kollegians Orchestra enlivens many an evening with peppy music. Also one night a week is lady's night when the men may bring their ladies fair to grace their board and in turn may benefit from the refining influence of the gentler sex.

All the difficulties in managing the Commons have not as yet been solved, but great progress has been made and further progress may be confidently expected in the future.

THE YEAR'S CALENDAR OF EVENTS

Sept. 16

September 16—College opens in a shower of glory. Junior counselors paddle down to meet their little charges. "So this is Venice!" cried one little Freshman, as he stepped off the great big train.

Sept. 17

September 17—The Freshmen think they have fallen into the hands of the Inquisition. But it is only the Seniors, stealing into chapel in their long black gowns.

September 19—The Women's League Picnic—Freshmen welcome with open arms a courageous upholder of their grievances, only to find that it is the Senior Vice-President.

> We've always thought As we've been taught The more the Marry 'err! The more the Mary 'err!

Sept. 22

September 22—Sophomores and Freshmen put on the usual bear-battling performance. This year ladies are excluded from the arena. A thorough burying of the hatchet follows in the evening in the Men's gym.

Page three hundred five

Oct. 1

One Oberlin function at which Diogenes would have felt at home.

October 7—The Junior-Freshman Hike. Everyone reaches home safely, with the exception of Don Kohr who returns to look for the missing nickel.

October 8—Dr. Bradshaw reports an epidemic of paralysis of the facial nerves as a result of the taking of the all-college picture.

October 14—The Mathematics Club holds its first meeting. Only triangular and square-headed members are admitted. Topic discussed—"Why is a mouse when it spins?" Solution: "The fewer the higher." Professor Cairns enters, crying, "Where has Polygon?"

October 20—Oberlin takes its weather with it to the Case game, and appears in native costume.

Priscilla appears and disappears at Baldwin in charge of Bob Duncan.

Page three hundred six

Oct. 31

October 31—Dad's and Mother's Day. Freshmen fall on fond parental shoulders. "And see my cap!" cries little Willie.

November 2—The Men's Building is converted and heaps coals of fire on its own head. The result is a general tarring and feathering supervised by Herr Bischoff.

Nov. 13

November 13--Mr. MacLennan rises to acrobatic heights in telling of Dr. Millikan's discovery of the new ray.

November 17—The Men's football banquet speakers manage to make themselves heard above the band and the crash of falling china. Jo Hubata makes the hit of the evening in his "Dance of the Seven Tea Towels—Six in the Care of Mrs. Savage."

Nov. 20

November 20—Someone plays havoc with a professor's student card catalogue. The following names appear grouped together: Sprout, Budd, Blume; Hill and Dale; Cook and Frye; English and French; Lamb and Lyon; Rice and Pease; Good and Luck; Hope and Love; Moon and Kiss; King and Cole.

Nov. 26

November 26—Thanksgiving Day.

December 4—Our petition to the faculty for a longer Christmas vacation is taken kindly, and gently relegated to the waste basket.

December 6—The faculty were observed to shuffle their feet in chapel. At first it was thought that they found the service a bit boring. Realizing this to be impossible, we soon learned that they had been taking lessons in the Charleston. —And this is Oberlin!

December 19—The Conservatory promenades with great eclat.

December 20—The Sophomores hold a bridge party. Booby prize is a bottle of Ketch-up.

There, little Sophomores, don't you cry; You'll be Juniors by and by.

December 22-Vacation begins at 11:00 A. M.

January 10—The Y. M. C. A. has a lecture on Wild Animals I Have Known at the M.B. The Men's Glee Club, Lemar Lehman, and Pete Ingalls are featured.

Jan. 12

January 12—On icy days like this, the skating rink is roped off and labeled to distinguish it from other parts of the campus. The college, in its encouragement of individuality, has made the rink small enough, so that only one student can skate on it at one time.

January 17—Professor Artz, in a spectacular nose dive and crawl stroke in front of Peter's Hall, illustrated the fact that he prefers a nice fall to a waterfall.

January 21—The usual additional Day of Prayer is granted us by the faculty before the period of storm and strife.

Page three hundred eight

Feb. 13

February 13—The Men's Glee Club present "Cleopatra" or Why Girls Leave Home in Four Parts.

February 18—The "O" Club Circus presents a Vaudeville. Interesting features are the free-for-all fight and the Widow's ${\rm Row}$.

February 22—The Faculty Reception in the Art Building goes off beautifully minus the usual heavy line.

March 4—The Fates decree that Mr. Taft should arrive on time to his eight o'clock class, plus the green tie, only to find that it is the day of prayer, and he should have worn black.

Mar. 23

March 23—Port Marifield faints in Italian Painting Class, when Mr. Ward breaks his own record by saying "Chahming" seven times.

April 1—Professor H. L. King attends chapel.

May 10

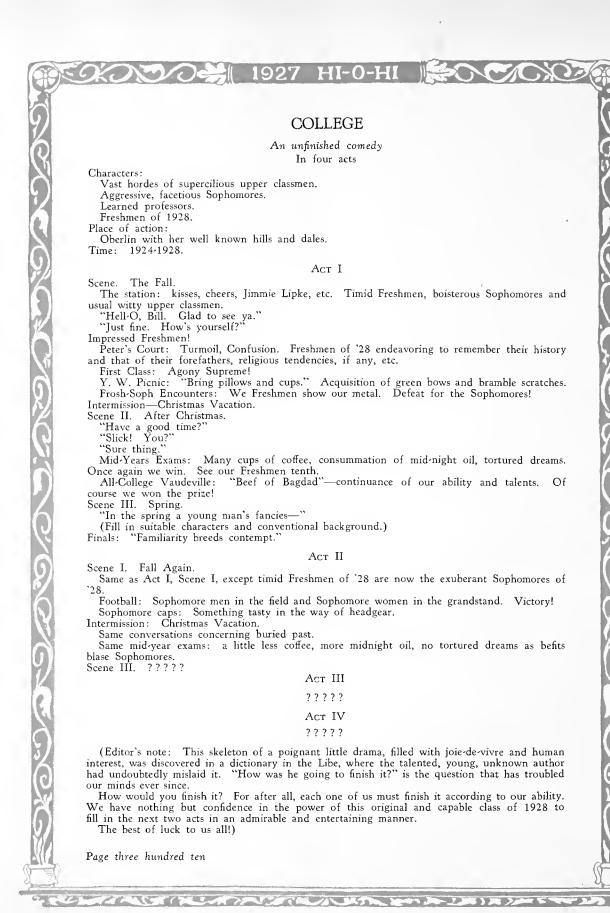

ACTION.

May 10-Mr. Buckler, having brewed his tea so strong that it could walk alone, was seen down town pursuing it with a large walking stick.

June 2—Someone remarks to Professor Jameson that they are tired of exams.

"C'eau je role main!" replies the professor.

The younger set of Oberlin College held a formal reception Saturday evening in the depot of the New York Central Railroad station in honor of the Coachess of Lumley who is visiting in this country. Miss Pauline Leis was stunning in a flannelette gown of soft silk trimmed with maribo, colored gold, and she carried a fan of beautiful quill pens. She was escorted by the well-known Percival Warren. Another charming debutante was Miss LaVerne Potter who was a flashing beauty in pale tan which set off her sleek blonde hair to great advantage. Another of the season's most fascinating young ladies present was the enticing Andria Westervelt. Miss Westervelt is attending an Eastern finishing school and is spending the holiday with the season's most recent young matron, Mrs. Wilma Hildebrandt. The guests were entertained by a solo dance by Miss Josephine Hubata of the Merry Gardens, Chicago. The Coachess of Lumley is leaving our fair city Thursday nite.

The Oberlin Business College has set a new record this year in that it has admitted only high school and college graduates. It has students in attendance this year from 66 high schools in Ohio, and some from other states. O. C. graduates of 1926 would find courses of business training of great benefit to them. Several members of the 1925 class are studying in the O. B. C. this year.

Dear Dad:

Please kindly excuse my delay in writing at your earliest convenience. It was this way, Dad. You know I never was a man of letters, anyway, and the jack was holding out fine until just yesterday when Dean Nicol says to me:

"Say, old man, can you let me have a fiver for the rest of the week? The Mrs. cut me off without a nickel."

Now, you know, Dad, if it had been anyone but Carl I'd have turned him flat, like you always says, but he's not a half bad sort and tell me, now—why should the Mrs. cut off his allowance? Well, you see if I really expected to see the fiver again I could hock a little something to hold me over if I hadn't already hocked everything I've been in the habit of hocking. I guess you can read the music so I'll have to cut this short.

Yours.

Dear Dad:

Have plenty of jack so don't let this letter scare you. The Roommate has been sick as a dog. Been lying at death's door for a week but I guess we can pull him thru. He says it ain't nothin' that he broke his nose in three places last summer. I can't see why he goes to those places.

Thought you might be interested in some of the activities I'm doing on the campus here. I tries out for nearly everything so you can see I'm quite the busy man. Once I tries out for the Glee Club but every time I sings I gets tears in my eyes. Mr. Wirkler says I should try puttin' cotton in my ears. The Christmas trip was West this year so I thinks I'll wait until sometime when they goes East.

Well, they sends out a call for Review reporters so I hikes down to the office early with plenty of pencils and newspapers all ready to start work. Well, the desks was all taken when I gets there but one fellow says to me, "Have you ever read proof?" I says "No, who wrote it?" Then he says somethin that I wouldn't repeat and walks off. I wouldn't ve said nothin more cause you says even a fish won't get caught if he keeps his mouth shut, but another guy says to me, "Don't mind that wit. He's Ed Howe—the office boy. He's got brain fever."

"Huh—brain fever," says I. "Impossible. Could a angle worm have water on the knee?" He didn't get it at all and goes on to remark that he has a cold in his head.

I says, "Never mind, dearie; don't grumble—even if it's only a cold it's something." This was Wes Lawrence so you can guess it didn't phase him, but I slides out for the door. Somehow I didn't like the spirit these guys show me so I think I'll work for the Shaft sometime maybe.

Well, I gets back on College Street and I sees a Boy Wanted sign in Gibson's window. I knows I ain't the boy I used to be but why shouldn't I try out for another board job. —So I slips in the front gate and passes Granny goin' west in her slippers and flanks Old Dad who was under the counter lookin' for that other celluloid collar he put there the day of the Mock Convention. Well, I has Hoot call Bert up from the foundry where he was incubating a set up of nut rolls and reminds him of his ad in the window. He says sorta high toned, "You presume?" "No sir," says I, lookin' like Don Q., "I assume." I guess he got me so he said, "Did you ever work around dough before?"

"Well," says I, "I has a peaceful job in a biscuit factory once."

"H'm, a peaceful job," says he. "What did they make you do?"

"Pack Nabiscos," says I.

"Good," says Bert, "I need a man who can talk German."

"Well, Dad, you can see I'm breakin' into society and some burglar breaks into Hill's store so as I says once before, maybe nothin ain't safe these days.

My secretary is tired now so I has to quit. Public life sure is the stuff.

Respectively,

YOUR OWN BIG BOY.
